A WELFARE PROJECT FOR THE AARONIC PRIESTHOOD

It seems to be the fashion to go back to fundamentals. The Church social welfare plan is, in essence, nothing else. Now comes from the office of the Presiding Bishopric a suggestion which, though not suggested as a welfare project for the Aaronic priesthood, nevertheless, if used as such will result in great stimulation of these quorums and a decided improvement in the affairs of each ward. And the suggestion is simply one taken from the pages of the past.

In the early days of the Church, when Fast Day was observed the first Thursday of each month, it was the duty of the Aaronic priesthood to hitch old Dobbin to the cart and journey forth on a house-to-house, farm-to-farm visit, there to gather the fast offerings in the form of flour, corn, pumpkins, bread, jelly, or what-have-you, and transport it to the bishop's storehouse for use in providing for those in want.

When Fast Day was changed to the first Sunday of each month, the same project was carried out on the preceding Saturday. Gradually, however, as the tempo of modern life increased, as luxuries became more common, this simple plan fell into discard, more or less, and in lieu thereof cash donations were received at the Fast Day service.

But this has not worked out. People are forgetful, they procrastinate, and with the best of intentions overlook things of importance without thinking. The result has been that fast offerings have dropped off in many regions. Oakland Stake is one of them. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that Oakland Stake never has been up to what it should be, for we are a young Stake, and the old plan had been discarded long before we officially came into existence. At any rate, our per capita collection on fast offering at the end of May was only 23 cents, whereas to have reached the minimum it should have been 42 cents.

To remedy this situation the Presiding Bishopric proposes a return to the old plan. Under it, every family in every ward or branch will be visited by the Aaronic priesthood on the first Sunday in each month and will be given a chance to contribute and will be invited to attend sacrament meeting. These visits are to be before Sunday School on Fast Sunday. Cards will be provided for each family in durable envelopes, and the head of the family will each month, when visited, write on the card his own record of his contribution. Already the system has been tried out in some wards which report enormous increase in collections by reason thereof.

The project was presented by the Stake Presidency to the bishops of the various wards on August 28th, and by them enthusiastically endorsed. However, in addition to utilizing it as a plan to collect fast offerings, it will be utilized to collect funds for ward maintenance. The boys of the Aaronic priesthood will be organized into flying squadrons to go out each Fast Sunday morning and cover the entire Stake. It will be their first big welfare project. It is expected to have the project in full swing by October 1st.

CLAREMONT WARD IS ORGANIZED

SELDEN MILLWARD
Second Counsellor

BISHOP CHAS. C.
CARR

REED H. CHASE
First Counsellor

The creation of a new ward between Berkeley and Oakland became an accomplished fact Sunday evening, August 28th, at a meeting attended by 128 persons. Elder Charles C. Carr was unanimously sustained as bishop, with Elder Reed Chase as first counselor and A. Selden Millward as second counselor.

The need for a new division has been felt for some time. Action was taken by the Stake Presidency and High Council several weeks ago, and at a meeting of the combined membership of the two wards affected, the project received an overwhelming vote. The matter was thereupon presented to the First Presidency and favorable word received early Sunday morning, the 28th.

Several names had been suggested for the new ward, but the one chosen was by far the most popular, and considered very descriptive of the territory to be covered. The boundaries of Claremont ward have been set at 55th Street on the south, University Avenue on the north, the Bay on the west, and Claremont Avenue on the east. Between 350 and 400 members of the old Berkeley ward will be affected, and approximately 100 members of Oakland ward.

Headquarters for the first year will be at Wilkins Hall, 2412 Haste Street, Berkeley, with a commodious hall, several rooms for classes, and space for recreation. There are several large churches in the immediate neighborhood.

Other officers sustained at the first meeting were Lenore C. Wood, president of the Relief Society; Heber James Brown, superintendent of the Young Men's M. I. A., and Esther Russell, superintendent of the Primary. There is excellent material to fill other offices and it is fully expected that they will be pretty well filled within the next few weeks.

Bishop Carr brings to his new position a wealth of experience, wisdom and energy. A native of Florida, where he was converted in his youth, he has had a life full of church activity. While attending the Denver University he served for almost three years as president of the Denver Branch. When San Francisco Stake was organized in 1927 he became the first bishop of Oakland ward, in which capacity he served for two and one-half years. Upon his release from that position he was made a member of the High Council and served as president of the Stake mission for two years. He is being released from his position on the High Council to assume his new duties. Bishop Carr was married in 1906 to Viola May Boyce, a native of Colorado. They have five sons, three of whom have already filled missions.

Reed H. Chase was released as first counselor to Bishop Norberg of Oakland ward to take his place in the new organization. A native of Provo, Utah, who has been in California since 1922, he has been consistently active in various Church capacities, serving as

PEAR-ING IS SERIOUS BUSINESS

And for that matter pear-ing is also a social success, as practiced by high priests and their wives of Dimond. In fact, all had a peach of a time. Which is one way to introduce the story of the successful welfare project undertaken in one of the liveliest wards of the Church. When Elder William E. Potts contacted our good friend W. B. Wharton of Walnut Creek and secured the gift of two large trailer loads of fine Bartlett pears, he started something.

The Dimond high priests cooperated to get a sealing machine, and then about twenty strong (their wives made it double), took over the kitchens of several homes and proceeded to "put up" over nine hundred large cans of pears. The Dimond Relief Society, not to be outdone, bottled some one hundred thirty quarts of the fruit donated by Jay Brown. The sum total was a good time by all and over a thousand cans or bottles of high-grade fruit to fill the shelves of the bishop's storehouse until needed.

ELDERS' QUORUMS RECEIVE FINE NEW MATERIAL

In the first mass promotion of members of the Aaronic priesthood, twenty-seven young men from six wards and branches were voted to be advanced to the Melchizedek priesthood at the Stake union meeting Sunday, August 28th. They represent the first generation of our own boys who have grown up together, gone to school together, been scouts, deacons, teachers and priests together, and have demonstrated by clean living and high principles their right to advancement to greater responsibilities. They are Sidney Feller, of Oakland ward; Verl Knight, Pittsburg branch; Newell Call, John Hangartner, Lawrence Hardesty, Robert Johnson, Weston J. Lloyd, Lynn Knight, Edward Pyle, Aaron Jones, Harold Gaisford, Thomas Banning, Stanley Dallin, Hartley Vincent Parker and Warren Carr, of Berkeley ward; Theodore Mudge, John Pollman, John Morgan, Joe Roy Hilton, Edgar Bolles and Paul Jenkel, of Dimond ward; Frank Leon Edlefsen, Jack Charles Dewsnup and William Canada Bingham, of Richmond ward, and George White, Reed Goodpasture and William A. Schipper, of Elmhurst ward.

STAKE PRESIDENCY'S
MESSAGE

DEAR BRETHREN:

This message is intended to supplement other announcements and to call directly to all members of the Priesthood to join forces to push to early completion our Stake Security Building.We appreciate the fact that many have already donated a number of days on this very worthy project. Many others have intended to do their part, but for one reason or another have not yet done so.The building is more than half completed but is being seriously curtailed due to lack of men and funds. Pledge cards were distributed at our August Stake Priesthood meeting and the executive officers of Melchizedek Priesthood Quorums were urged to renew activity in this very necessary work. Whether or not you may have signed one of these cards, this invitation is extended to you, one and all, to assist. Men and boys holding the Priesthood are urged to donate labor or money or both as they are able.Additional money is urgently needed.
Now, brethren, please consider that this message is directed to you personally.
We know that we can depend upon you.The project is in East Oakland on Gould Street, about one-half block off 98th Avenue. It is a few blocks toward the bay from East 14th Street, near the big Fleischman Yeast plant. Someone will be there to direct your labors. Bring any building tools you may have. If you have none, some will be available at the job.While this message deals entirely with temporalities you are reminded that this Church rightly concerns itself with both the spiritual and the temporal. They cannot, in fact, be separated. We are required to WORK out our salvation.
This has application both individually and collectively.Faithfully your brethren, EUGENE HILTON

WARD TEACHER'S MESSAGE

Auxiliaries to the Priesthood

In the plan of the Church for the development and progress of its members after the Priesthood was restored and established, auxiliary associations—"helps in government"— were introduced. These organizations, operating under the direction of the Priesthood, were intended to assist the Priesthood in the training and advancement of all the members of the Church.In the early days of the M. I. A., President Brigham Young said: "It now becomes the duty of these institutions to aid the Holy Priesthood in instructing the Youth of Israel in all things commendable and worthy of the acceptance of Saints of the Most High God." He also said: "Let the keynote of your work be the establishment in the Youth of individual testimony of the truth and magnitude of the great Latter-day work."In the month of September the five auxiliary organizations and the Genealogical Society have a revival of their work. New programs take effect in some groups and an effort is made to attract to the meetings all members of the various groups.A study of the membership and attendance figures of the auxiliaries indicates that large numbers of our members are neglecting valuable opportunities to increase their knowledge of the Gospel and other subjects necessary and desirable for growth and advancement and are missing rare opportunities for cultural development.The Relief Society program of service, education and fellowship should attract every woman who is able to attend.The Sunday School, teaching the doctrines of the Church to all members who are interested enough to take advantage of this invaluable opportunity, is indispensable.The M. I. A., assigned to give leadership to recreation, leisure time activities and cultural development based upon Latter-day Saint standards, offers a wealth of opportunity to both youth and adults.The Primary Association, with a truly remarkable program for children in the field of recreation and useful leisure time activities, with a highly religious and cultural background, should have the active cooperation of every parent.The Genealogical groups, with their important assignments to assist and train the Saints in methods of research to prepare themselves to carry on their Temple responsibilities, should have full cooperation.At this season of the year, as these institutions enter upon their regular schedules for the winter, it is urged that every family program be studied carefully and that attendance at and participation in the work of these associations by every member be encouraged.Every possible opportunity to increase our knowledge of the Gospel and associated subjects, to make friends, to enjoy uplifting, beneficial cultural recreation, should be taken advantage of. Our auxiliaries offer us valuable opportunities which should not be missed.
Every member should take the fullest possible advantage of them.Note to Teachers: Learn if possible whether members of families visited have been active in the various auxiliary associations. Where they have not been, give them an outline of the programs and urge that they visit the appropriate associations to learn of the opportunities offered. If it seems desirable, offer to attend with them to introduce them to the officers and members.

The occasion was a farewell testimonial in honor of the ward members who are in the boundaries of the new Claremont Ward. Baseball, volley ball, ping-pong, horseshoes and children's races were features of the afternoon. A bonfire in the evening with songs and reading and a few words from Bishop Norberg, concluded a fine entertainment.

Robert Johnson acted as special assistant mix-master, in charge of liquid refreshment.

Miss Marjorie Tolman and Gilbert Larsen were united in holy wedlock recently, at the home of Marjorie's parents in Berkeley. The bride's brother, Grant, acted as best man. Some sixty guests were present. A beautiful flower arrangement, all in white, was carried out by Maybelle Anderson, assisted by her two nieces from Los Angeles, and Betty Owens. Anna Ellsworth prepared a lovely wedding cake. The newlyweds have made their home at 35th Street and Foothill Boulevard.
